Message from the President

Dear League Members:

Fall brings us another busy season of issue events, advocacy, and politics in the form of municipal elections. We will be engaged in all of them, including producing a Voters' Guide and conducting candidate forums.

Educational panel discussions are also coming your way, as is another consensus meeting, this time on Money in Politics, an LWVUS study. We will be posting materials on the website, and hope you will attend some or all of these events.

We are constantly updating the website with events, advocacy, and League business. The Membership Resources page now includes League policies, League job descriptions, and bylaws. You can read about our latest advocacy activities. Check this and more at www.lwvsfc.org. And thanks to Chris Furlanetto and Suzanne Ronneau for learning the website and doing the updates. We make a great team!

We are planning an exciting fundraising event on Thursday, October 29, from 5:00 – 7:00 p.m. Save the date on your calendars and watch for your invitation. We hope you will join us for this special event and program.

The League of Women Voters of New Mexico is engaged in advocacy activities and preparing for the 2016 legislative session. We have asked Governor Martinez to put legislation for an independent ethics commission (maybe now is a good time?) on her call. This is the only way to get non-budget legislation on the short budget session agenda. We are fairly sure a number of bad bills on other topics will also crop up on that list. Do we have to go through the drivers' license fight for a sixth time?

Join or renew your membership.
See page 7.

While the state League may seem remote from us at the local level, I encourage you to consider helping with lobbying activities before and during the legislative session. You can see what other leagues in the state are doing by reading La Palabra. The other leagues also have very interesting programs and are working on issues of importance to us all. Finally, the state league website has gotten a facelift and has a lot of new information. Please check it out: www.lwvnm.org.

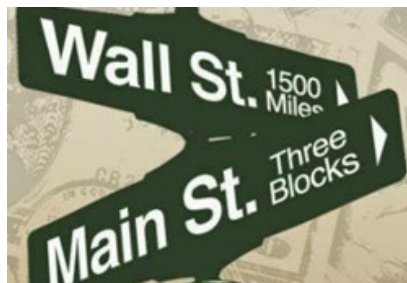

I look forward to seeing all of you at an event --or all of them! Thank you for all your support; we can't play a role in the community without money and woman- (and man-) power!

The PNM case on the San Juan Generating Station (SJGS) is still pending before the New Mexico Public Regulation Commission (PRC). PNM is proposing to abandon the two units and purchase a greater share of one of the remaining two units as a replacement. They also intend to purchase more coal for the purpose. The plan includes natural gas, nuclear power, and a small amount of renewables (wind, solar, and geothermal). PNM has been granted two more extensions since the original June deadline to present a final coal contract for the San Juan mine and ownership restructuring agreement at San Juan Generating Station.

A decision is expected in the current calendar year. Ten days of hearings have been scheduled by the PRC, starting October 13 and ending on October 23.

Santa Fe Public Banking Initiative

Katie Updike, Managing Partner of Building Solutions, will discuss her city-commissioned study on the feasibility of a Santa Fe public banking initiative at the October 28 lunch at the Hilton. Her report will cover the economic and financial conditions currently driving the public banking movement here and elsewhere, and possible ways of addressing the City's financial objectives and the economics using new tools to enhance accountability and transparency. She has a talent for making this complex topic clear and interesting.

Ms. Updike's varied background ranges from managerial positions in large commercial banks to working with non-profits and municipalities on projects to improve the health of communities.

New Leadership at LWVUS

The League of Women Voters of the U.S. has a new Executive Director. Dr. Wylecia Wiggs Harris brings many years of seasoned leadership, experience, and a passion for (and a doctoral degree in) organizational development. With more than 25 years of diverse association experience, Dr. Harris brings strong relationship management skills and a proven track record in successfully building and establishing organizations by providing leadership and vision for staff, volunteers, and members. She is expected to bring many needed qualities to the League as it reaches out to new members, conducts advocacy and voter education and engagement, and helps local Leagues to develop their potential.

She served 11 years as chief operating officer of the American Nurses Association (ANA), where she transformed the association's Race for Relevance, launched the Leadership Institute, and reorganized the American Nurses Foundation. At the American Heart Association for 17 years, Dr. Harris held positions at the local, regional, and national levels. In these roles, Dr. Harris used technology, communication, and innovative approaches as the backbone for building or rebuilding successful educational and outreach programs.

"I am thrilled that Wylecia will be bringing her talents and leadership acumen to the League of Women Voters," said Elisabeth MacNamara, president of LWVUS. "Her considerable skills in guiding organizations and setting a strategic vision and roadmap for the future will be incredible assets to the League. Wylecia comes to the League at this exciting and important time as we celebrate 95 years and look toward our 2020 centennial. I am confident that with Wylecia at the helm, we will reach new heights."

"This position with the League of Women Voters means a great deal to me. It provides me with an opportunity to devote my leadership experiences to an organization whose mission closely aligns with my personal convictions. The League's efforts to engage all voters has always been professionally inspiring to my work," said Dr. Harris.

Dr. Harris holds a Ph.D. in organizational development from Capella University in Minneapolis, Minnesota; a master of management degree from Northwestern University in Evanston, Illinois; and a bachelor's degree from Wittenberg University in Springfield, Ohio.

Highlights Board Meeting September 9, 2015

- Board retreat recap: The Board felt the retreat was quite productive. Going through the strategic plan was a useful exercise, and Pat, with Marcy, will revise and organize an updated version for the Board's approval.
- Judy, with Suzanne Ronneau's assistance, has put her files onto the office computer, and they are updating the website on an ongoing basis. It now includes the Board Policies, will include the strategic plan when updated, as well as job descriptions and other information useful to the community.
- The League, through the Action and Advocacy Committee, is trying to ensure that all City and County and State meetings are monitored by a League member or have a League presence. Miriam Ries and Joyce Blaylock will monitor the important City Finance Committee.
- Pat will post a notice on the website of times, dates, and locations of government meetings for public interest.
- The Board will take a fresh look at the league budget and get it aligned with the updated strategic plan.
- Judy Introduced Jennifer Kilbourn, an organizational development professional who sat in on the meeting. Jennifer felt that the Board needed to do some preliminary work before she could make any proposal to help. The strategic plan update, fund-raising objectives and membership development should be areas of focus and work for the Board in the coming year.
- Marcy, who will relinquish Voter Services this year, is pleased that Ann Coulston and Suzanne Ronneau have stepped up to work with her on Voter Services activities. News will be forthcoming about the primaries, candidates, dates, and other election news happening this spring.

Nonfiction Book Club

The Righteous Mind:

Why good people are divided by politics and religion

By Jonathan Haidt

The League will hold its next Nonfiction Book Club meeting on Thursday, October 22, 2015, at Collected Works bookstore, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The U.S. is rife with political polarization and paralysis. Haidt challenges conventional thinking about morality, politics, and religion in a way that speaks to everyone on the political spectrum. He shows how moral judgments arise not from reason but from gut feelings. He shows why liberals, conservatives, and libertarians have such different intuitions about right and wrong.

League Participates in National Money in Politics Review and Update

The LWVSFC is joining Leagues across the nation to take part in the Money in Politics (MIP) Review and Update. Adopted at the 2014 LWVUS Convention, this involves a member study and consensus to update the League's position on campaign finance in order to obtain member understanding and agreement on the extent to which political campaigns are protected speech under the First Amendment. Leagues are being asked to consider the rights of individuals and organizations to express their political views through independent expenditures and the finance of election campaign activities, and how those rights, if any, should be protected and reconciled with the interests set out in the current position.

LWVUS has set this timetable for the MIP project:

- Spring to Summer 2015: Education materials are posted periodically on the League Management website. Leagues can use these materials for member and community meetings.
- Fall 2015: A study guide and consensus questions will be posted for the Money in Politics Review and Update. Leagues will hold consensus meetings.
- February 1, 2016: Consensus reports (electronic) from Leagues due to LWVUS.
- April 2016 national LWV Board meeting: Consensus reports and resulting position(s), if any, will be approved.

The LWVUS Money in Politics (MIP) Committee that formed last fall includes LWV leaders from across the country and national board and staff members. The Committee is developing ready-to-use resources and strategies that are designed to help League members and the citizenry understand money in politics issues. They will prepare members for the update of LWVUS's campaign finance position. These educational materials, called "Meetings-in-a-Box," are designed to use for member and community activities and will be available at <http://forum.lwv.org/category/member-resources/our-work/money-politics-review>

Join the LWV MIP Google Group that replaced the Money in Politics Member Discussion Forum. Members of the former League MIP forum should have received an invitation, but if you didn't or if you would like to join the new discussion group, follow the instructions at <https://groups.google.com/d/forum/lwv-money-in-politics>

Questions about the MIP Review and Update can be sent to MIPCommitteeChair@lwv.org

Please join the LWVSFC as we participate in this important League study on an issue that is critical to our democracy. LWVSFC hosted a local "Money in Politics" program over the summer, highlighting proposed campaign finance law changes for the City of Santa Fe. Our local League will host a "Money in Politics" Consensus meeting on November 17, 2015, at the Santa Fe County Health & Human Resources Conference Room located 2052 Galisteo from 9:00 a.m to 12:00 noon. Please plan to attend. Members are strongly encouraged to visit the national League's website listed above to review the educational materials. The following documents are now available online: Action in the States; The First Amendment; Shifts in Supreme Court Opinion about Money in Politics; The Debate: Can Government Regulate Money in Politics?; Corruption & Rationale for Regulating Campaign Finance; The Role of the Supreme Court in Interpreting the Constitution; and Independent Expenditures.
